A Wartime Need

NO MATTER how many things you go without—it is folly to sacrifice the Hoosier Kitchens Cabinet. This is the strong right arm of kitchen service—and kitchen patriotism will help win the war.

Don't impoverish your health or strength by working long hours on your feet. The nation needs a strong and healthy womanhood.

HOOSIER

KITCHEN CABINET

Don't waste foods in measuring and mixing—in exposing them in unprotected places.

Hoosier prevents waste, saves food and guards it. There are 400 places for flour, sugar, etc.—all the principal supplies and utensils.

Pay only $1 on delivery. Pay the balance $1 weekly. Your money all back if you are not delighted.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Regular meeting of Barre lodge, 138, N. E. O. P., to-night at 7:30.
Best 35c coffee for 21c. Try a pound to-day. Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co.
A regular meeting of St. John's court, C. O. F., will be held Thursday evening at 7 o'clock.

M. J. Whitcomb of East Barre has been passing a few days in Brattleboro on business.

F. T. Cutler of North Main street was a business visitor in Burlington yesterday and to-day.

Miss Louise Watt is confined to her home on Washington street by a severe attack of rheumatism.

Don't forget that $185 will buy a good upright piano this week at Bailey's Music Rooms, 14 Elm street.

Mrs. Patrick Flood returned to her home in Northfield, after passing several days with friends in Barre.

Miss Isabella Jackson of South Main street is visiting relatives at Thompson Point on Lake Champlain.

J. C. Little has been making an extended visit in the home of his son, Clyde Little, in South Walden.

The Altman's will meet with Mrs. Eisenwinter, 133 Elm street, Friday afternoon, April 12, at the usual hour.

The regular monthly meeting of the trustees of the Barre City hospital will be held at the hospital this evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gray of Patterson street have returned home, after spending a few days with relatives in Calais.

Mr. and Mrs. Elsie Bemis have been passing several days in Brownington, where they were guests of the latter's brother, George Pierce.

Fred A. Johnson, who has been passing a few days with his parents at 20 Beckley street, returned this morning to Fort Slocum, N. Y., to resume his duties.

Misses Rose Tomasi and Marguerite Currier, who have been visiting at their homes in this city during the past several days, returned this forenoon to Northampton, Mass., where they will resume their studies at Smith college.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Marchetto and son, James, Marchetto, Central street, the latter of whom has been employed for several months at the City bakery, left this afternoon for Pennsylvania, where they expect to take up their residence.

Roy Bugbee of Washington street is detained from his duties as a clerk in the postoffice, he being confined to his home by pneumonia. Although Mr. Bugbee's condition has been somewhat serious for several days, an early recovery is expected.

William Laney arrived in the city last evening from Lynn, Mass., and this forenoon he enrolled for the spring term at Goddard seminary. He has played for the Lynn high school baseball team during the past two years and expects to be a candidate for one of the outfield positions on the seminary team.

Judge H. W. Scott is to extend his area of bee culture this season by transferring to his property near Batchelder street some of the colonies hitherto housed on Richardson street or on the Montpelier road. The land at the southeast end of the city is well adapted to the plans of an apiarist, and the bees are expected to thrive. The judge has completed a design for a new bee house which will have dimensions of 12 and 12 feet, with a height of one story.

On Saturday afternoon and evening, the Jack Fairbanks company of singers and dancers will hold forth at the opera house. This attraction, headed by that gloom killer, Jack Fairbanks, is surrounded by a bevy of young and pretty girls, who can sing and dance, and in the comedy, "Here Goes," have plenty of chances in which to show their vocal accomplishments. The prices for this engagement are children 10c, adults 25c, for the matinee; night prices, children 10c, adults 25c, 35c—adv.

Provided the campus is in playing condition, the Goddard seminary baseball team will open the season Saturday afternoon, when they are scheduled to meet the Norwich university nine. It is expected that Evans or Kelley will be Coach McGinnis' selection for twirling, while Tryon will be on the receiving line. The seminary team has been holding outdoor practice during the past two weeks and strengthened by several players of other prep school experience, should develop into a good team.

Somehow the impression has got abroad that the end of a week's intensive campaign for books to be sent to soldiers and sailors under the American flag removed the opportunity to contribute to this good cause. At the Aldrich Public library, where a large number of books was received in the week set apart for a special drive, it is stated that books for the fighting men will be received at any and all times, and shipped at regular intervals to places designated by the American Library association.

The announcement is a timely one, for housekeepers, now busy with the spring cleaning, may run across any number of books which the soldiers would like, and they are urged, in this connection, to set aside such literature as can be spared and leave the books with the librarian or her assistants.

Soon after daybreak plans for the departure of Everett Hood and family were set in motion, and for the first time since the day before the fire, the site of the Wells-Lamson granite plant at North Barre is without tenants. Suggestions about moving were made to Mr. Hood by members of the city council, and it is said that certain of the aldermen, in their willingness to speed the leaving of the Hood family, made minor repairs to the house on which in which the family has lived for several years. Yesterday when all was in readiness for the flight, a horse was hitched to the Hood residence and a toilsome journey eastward was started. Mr. Hood told the councilors that he had two steers pastured in Orange, and that our sylvan neighbor hood to the east looked pretty good to him as a permanent abiding place.

Applications for licenses in Barre must be filed with the city clerk before this afternoon at 5 o'clock, according to the order issued by the Washington county license commission, which met here for organization last week. There is every indication that the number of applicants will shrink materially from last year's aggregate, and the total of the year preceding. Inducements to enter the liquor business have lost much of their lustre and the various prohibitions placed on the retailer since the war began has tended to reduce the number of people who believe that a year or two behind the bar is the equivalent of a legacy from an unknown uncle in the West. After all applications are received they must be advertised in three successive weeks. Then a hearing is held and after that the licenses are awarded.

Values You Will Appreciate

In this era of woolen scarcity and rising prices these coat and suit values will be doubly appreciated. A keen eye for style will see several new style features in the coats and suits we are now showing. Notice especially the collars, pockets, plaits, panels and belts. Only a try-on will show you what graceful slenderness these models give to the figure.

Style and Service

What feeling is more pleasing and what knowledge more gratifying than to feel and know that the Coat and Suit you wear bears the label that stands for style and service? It is a great satisfaction to know that the Coat or Suit you wear bears the A. P. Abbott Co. label, for this style-mark, more than anything else we know, means your complete happiness in style, in fit, in tailoring—and it means you will continue to get happiness from your purchase even longer than one season.

Those of you who visited our department last week know how busy we were and how good values we were showing. This week we will have many new models coming in by nearly every express. If in need of a Coat or Suit, look over the values we have for you, and see how good materials and style we have for your inspection and selection.

A visit to our Ready-Made Millinery Department will convince you of the importance of buying your Hat as you see it. Notice how well they are made. See the style that each model carries, that is different from the others. Then, for the next few weeks, by nearly every express, we will be having new models coming into the department.

Along with the soft picking which amateur burglars seem to be finding in shops along North Main street, there seems to be a wave of crime settling down over the north end of the city.

Thus far the wave has washed into no better picking than that afforded by stonemason offices. Within a few days two breaks of this kind have been reported, and in one instance, it is said, an attempt was made to force the office.

Very few locked and portable articles are to be found in stonemason offices, and thieves seldom make off with any of the larger monuments, but ransacking a closer watch is being set for the office visitors, and one or two surprises are in store for them.

War gardening on the hill slopes of Barre is to be as much in vogue as last year, according to present indications. Owners of land that may be readily turned to gardening purposes are besieged with queries as to the possibilities of late afternoon farming on their tracts, and in any number of instances plots have been rented already to city people who plan to spend the extra hour of daylight and more, too, among the cabbage and peas. Although in some cases amateur gardeners who till the soil last season were not at all satisfied with the results of their summer's work when it came harvesting time, there is evident a commendable persistence on their part, and the desire to do a bit has been accentuated by the added hour of daylight for those who toil in shade and over the ledger. So far as can be learned land owners are disposed to charge only nominal rents for those who are seriously considering war gardens.

BARRE GOLF CLUB.

Rev. F. L. Goodspeed, who conducted services in the Congregational church Sunday, returned yesterday to Amherst, Mass.

Among the guests arriving at Hotel Barre last night and this morning were the following people: M. S. Richmond of Grand Rapids, Mich., W. C. Irish and Charles W. Farnham of Burlington, C. A. Worden of Batavia, N. Y., R. A. Worthen of East Walpole, Mass., Thomas P. Quinn of Springfield, R. O. Balch of Johnson, P. W. Stearns of St. Johnsbury, J. C. McLeod of Bradford, W. D. Tuxbury of Windsor, W. B. Glynn of Saxtons River, H. M. Degree of Burlington, George L. Johnson of Auburndale, Mass., H. W. Varnum of Jeffersonville, J. A. Cross of Northfield.

First Lieutenant A. W. Winch of the U. S. Medical corps, who has been stationed at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., since January, having gone there from Portland, Me., where he recently set up practice, has received orders together with 94 other medical men out of a corps of 1,000 at Fort Oglethorpe to report on Friday morning, April 12, at a certain Atlantic port. The destination of the men is not announced. Since being at Fort Oglethorpe Lieut. Winch has had a run of pneumonia but is now fully recovered.

Mrs. Winch and two children are at the home of her father, Dr. V. C. Goodrich, in Barre, where they will remain until Lieut. Winch concludes his service for the government. The many friends of Lieut. Winch in Barre and vicinity will be pleased to hear of his success in being selected among the medical men who were ready for active service.

BETHEL

Henry E. Holbrook writes from Camp Jackson, Columbia, S. C., that he is enjoying military life and has been made an acting sergeant.

Miss Victoria Morse of Acuteville, formerly of this town, went Monday to Washington, D. C., to enter a government position.

Prof. R. S. Noble, with his friend, Prof. Edward McGinness, of Goddard seminary, was at home Sunday and Monday.

D. C. Rogers has been quite ill lately, after a period of much better health during the winter.

The bearers at the funeral of Mrs. Frances J. Sewall yesterday were D. W. Bliss, Frank Rand, Thomas Thornton and J. F. Waterman. Among those present were Mrs. W. E. Douglas, a niece, from Enosburg Falls, Charles Bennett, a brother, from Palmer, Mass., and Mrs. Warren Bennett, a sister-in-law, from Springfield, Mass.

Bernard Wilmot writes that since arriving in France he has been promoted to be a first-class private.

In the list of Bethel soldiers in France published recently, the name of Lieut. Arthur A. Dearing should have been included, making 12 in all.

H. O. Nicolai, until a few months ago a resident of this village, who had taken out his first papers, but had to register as an enemy alien, was arrested Monday in Boston, where he now lives, on a charge of changing his residence without a government permit. He was confined Monday night and yesterday in U. S. court was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and placed on probation. E. C. Fisher of the Bethel Chrome Tanning Co. secured the services of ex-Governor Walsh to defend Mr. Nicolai, none of whose friends here believe that he was guilty of an intentional lawless act.
